The Turing test, developed by Alan Turing in 1950, is a test of a machine's ability to exhibit intelligent behavior equivalent to, or indistinguishable from, that of a human. Turing proposed that a human evaluator would judge natural language conversations between a human and a machine designed to generate human-like responses. The evaluator would be aware that one of the two partners in ...

Mit dem sogenannten Turing-Test formulierte Alan Turing im Jahr 1950 eine Idee, wie man feststellen könnte, ob ein Computer, also eine Maschine, ein dem Menschen gleichwertiges Denkvermögen hätte. Dieser Test war zunächst nur eine theoretische Skizze, die erst später, nachdem die künstliche Intelligenz als Teilbereich der Informatik zu einem eigenständigen akademischen ...

Turing-test er en måde til at afgøre, om en maskine udviser intelligens på menneskeligt niveau, uden at man på samme tid er nødt til at definere, hvad (menneskelig) intelligens slet er for en størrelse. Det er selvsagt ikke en måde til at afgøre, om en maskine reelt er intelligent.. Testen er netop foreslået af den engelske matematiker Alan Mathison Turing i artiklen Computing ...

Today (June 23, 2010) would have been Alan Turing's 98 th birthday "if he had not died in 1954, at the age of 41.. I never met Alan Turing; he died five years before I was born. But somehow I feel I know him well" not least because many of my own intellectual interests have had an almost eerie parallel with his.
